Awareness is Freedom

The Silent Epidemic

India's Youth Are Unknowingly Walking Into Crime

- Over 40% of crimes committed in India are by youth aged 18–30. Source
- Lack of basic legal awareness and impulse control is driving the trend
- Most first-time offenders didn't plan to be criminals
- Mistakes, fights, pranks, peer pressure — all can become criminal cases
- Families suffer emotionally, socially, and financially

Result: A generation losing its future to ignorance, stigma, and system failure.

The Root Problem

We Teach Algebra, But Not the Law

No formal legal education in schools or colleges

No training in self-control, emotional awareness, or system understanding

Youth don't understand their rights as citizens — they do not need to fear the law; parents and police are there to help

The media glamorizes violence, revenge, and crime

The legal process often feels like a black box where many crimes stem not from intent, but from emotion, ignorance, or unfortunate circumstances.

🎯 Crime is often not intentional — it is uninformed, emotional, avoidable, and sometimes a matter of unfortunate circumstance.

One Mistake, Lifelong Punishment

The Journey from Mistake to Misery

Action	Consequence
Violent assault – Murder, rape or attempt thereof	BNS
Social Media prank	Cybercrime
Helping a friend	Aiding a criminal
Substance use	NDPS Act

- Most first-time offenders never expected this outcome
- Parents are shocked. Students drop out. Careers are destroyed.

Law doesn't forgive ignorance. But awareness can prevent it.

Building a Nationwide Crime Shield

Scalable, Modular, Emotionally Powerful

Every state, every city, every youth deserves to know what NOT to do

The Prevention Economy

Total Addressable Market (TAM)

371 million youth (age 15–29) in India, Drishti IAS

Assume we aim to educate 30% of them over time (i.e., ~111.3 million learners) via seminars, digital modules, partnerships, etc. If the average spend per youth (or sponsored cost) is even ₹200 annually, that implies:

TAM = 111.3 million × ₹200 = ₹2,226 Crores (~₹22,260 million)

Targeting ₹ 10 Crore Annual Revenue by FY30

Focused on youth-focused educational institutions, CSR-funded awareness programs, and scalable digital content for Tier 1 & Tier 2 cities across India.
